6. MARKETING AND COMMUNICATION

6.1 Internet Results

During Season 2018, CBR maintained its good results that have been obtained in recent years with the online dissemination of events and of the entity's activities. In addition to the website and Facebook, already used since 2014, the online presence has been expanded to Instagram, Twitter and YouTube. On the site, the number of visitors remained practically stable at 32,596 visitors in 2017 to 32,053 visitors in 2018. You can see the peak visits on the site of CBR are directly linked to the events nationals. During Brazilian Short Boats 2018, for example, the site registered an increase 150% in the number of visitors. The pages Results, Bulletins and Calendar are among the most accessed from the site since 2014. By 2020, an increase in visits is expected, as occurred in 2016 during the period before the Olympic Games. On Facebook, the number of followers has doubled since 2014, but the reach of News last year fell 42% and average views per post dropped from 1042 to 719. This is a reflection of the fall in the number of Facebook users who are migrating to other social networks. Note mainly the drop in number of young users: in profile Remo Brasil, 60% of the active public has more than 35 years old. Engagement and reach of publications is also linked to the results of the Selection Brazilian at international events. During the Under 23 World Cup 2018, when Uncas Tales Batista won his two-time title, Facebook was the highest of the season: 36,412 people. In the Third Stage of the World Cup Remo, when Brazil arrived ended its participation in Finals C and D, were only 6,089 People reached. Remo Brasil Instagram Profile, released March 2018 had a similar range to even though it has less time to Usage: 125,846 people. View Average per post was 1301, 80% higher than Facebook in the same period. The increase of this number will depend on a larger generation of content by CBR: news, photos and videos that consequently generate more visibility for the Brazilian oar. Another highlight was the use of videos in the online dissemination. Publications with up to 4 times the range during the Junior World with photos. In the Senior World, the videos had range up to 8 times longer. In Facebook alone, there were 18,500 views of the videos posted. Remo Brasil YouTube channel had 3.1 thousand video views with the stream from Pan American Qualifying Race.

RELATIONSHIP BETWEEN CBR AND THE ROWING COMMUNITY

6.2 STATE ROWING DISCLOSURE

CBR continued with its outreach support to state federations during 2018. There were 32 news articles published on the site and on the networks. Confederation social groups totaling over 190 news since 2013. Website content is also periodically routed to the list. CBR contact information, which includes former rowers, sports authorities and journalists. Medals were provided at cost price for the federations concerned. CBR closed a large order from your supplier and managed to keep the price below the market average including freight for delivery throughout Brazil. There were 1,896 medals sent to 32 competitions in eight states: Amazonas, Bahia, Federal District, Espírito Santo, Pará, Pernambuco, Paraná and Santa Catarina.

6.3 OPINION POLLS

Following guidance from the Olympic Committee, the CBR started in Season 2018 the realization of opinion polls about national events and missions to international events. Athletes and coaching staff had the opportunity to evaluate the work of the Confederation and suggest changes for improvement in activities and events. In the Brazilian Short Boat 2018, held at Raia da USP in March, the evaluation of the participants was very positive: the event received an overall rating of 4.0 out of 5.0 points. The participants were 32 athletes and technicians from five states. The research was carried out anonymously and could be evaluated nine items: Location, Streak Structure, Date, Boats, Medals, Organization, Disclosure, Arbitration, and Access to Newsletters. The most highly evaluated items were the Streak Structure and the Championship Venue (São Paulo), with grades 4.7 and 4.6 respectively. The Survey participants praised the beacon in the USP Raia. According to a coach who answered the survey, “the streak allowed all athletes competed equally.” The beacon started at the end of 2017 and was finalized for this championship by CBR in partnership with CEPEUSP and CPB. Some points critics were raised and evaluated in the planning of the following championships. In the item Disclosure, several suggestions were received to broadcast the event via the internet. The Brazilian Longboat Championship 2018, held in October in Rio de Janeiro, It also received positive evaluation from the participants, obtaining an overall score of 4.2 points. The survey was answered by 40 people. 34 athletes and 16 coaches / club officers subscribed. The answers were anonymous, but the participants indicated the membership club in way that the result represents the opinion of 17 clubs from eight states. The most highly rated items were Access to Bulletins (note 4.6) and Streak Structure (4,5). The points indicated for improvement were Boat Availability (3,8) and Disclosure (3.2). No specific issues were raised by participants in the space for research comments. On social networks, we get the suggestion of simplifying the dissemination of the results to make it easier for viewers still lay in the oar. In research conducted with athletes and technical committee convened for the events the general note for the mission of the South American rowing in March was 3.0 points. Participants were able to evaluate nine Items: Airport to hotel transfer, Transportation for training, food at the competition venue, food at the competition venue, accommodation, uniforms, technical staff, boat and general organization. Athletes reported problems with eating at the competition venue, with the regulation of the boats and the size from car to transport. Hosting and staff technique received praise. In World Cup Stage 2 in June, the grade increased to 4.4 points. In the World Junior, the grade was 4.1 points and in the World Senior 4.0 points. The criticisms in these cases were mainly in relation to the uniform, which presented problems due to confection. Unfortunately not all athletes and commission technique responded to the survey, which would allow CBR to better identify problems and present more assertive solutions.

6.4 SUPPORTERS

For the international competitions held Between June and August, all the athletes summoned received a kit that included Certificate Convocation Officer, Remo Brasil T-Shirt, Mormaii uniform and Hydrotank termos by Urbnsol. The companies Mormaii and Urbnsol acted as supporters of the Brazilian team Remo and provided the products at no charge. The T-shirt and certificate were paid from the Confederation's own resources. The Urbnsol brand was very participative throughout the support period. She disclosed the results of the selection in their networks and if showed open to new partnerships, because there is interest in combining its image with sports. The value invested by the supporter was R $ 1,305.00 in products sent to athletes. Mormaii released the medalists from selection your website, Facebook and Instagram, with highlight to the photos of the Paralympic boat with the Mormaii logo. The mark also appeared on FISA website on photos of Paralympic Finals A during the World Cup. The amount invested by the supporter was $ 9,600.00 in products. The value is approximate based on the average value of product market (34 units).
